Mike Miller's love for monster trucks started when he first saw monster trucks at 3 years old in Bloomsburg, PA, 4-Wheel Jamboree. Since then he has worked towards getting a job with a professional monster truck team. Everytime monster trucks were near Clermont, PA, his hometown he would make the trek to be there; ready to help any team or driver that needed a hand. Throughout the years he's made many friends with many people in the monster truck world from across the country, but his heart has always been with Hall Brothers Racing.

In 2005, he had the joy of introducing his future wife to the world of monster trucks. They travelled even further, over their years of dating, to monster truck shows and 4-Wheel Jamborees, including several trips to Indianapolis, Columbus, and Champaign.

Miller spent his free time mud bogging and mudding with his Jeep, drag racing his snowmobile, and eventually racing at a local oval dirt track. He also enjoys racing and jumping RC trucks.

In late 2011 he received a call from Hall Brothers Racing asking if he wanted to go on the road with the team for 3 weeks. Miller knew that this was his chance to get his foot in the door of a professional monster truck team. He took a leave of absence from his job and headed to Illinois, Kansas, and Texas with the Ram team. He loved every minute of his time on the road. He returned home and got a phone call shortly after offering him a job with the Raminator monster truck team.

On December 31, 2011, Mike and his wife left Kane, PA, and moved to Danville, IL, with their two cats. His first year on the team has been full of excitement and travel. He's been from coast to coast and border to border. He's been honored to be trusted with the task of taking the show truck on the road, being a mechanic for the trucks, and even drive his very first car crush. He looks forward to his continued success in the career of his dreams with Hall Brothers Racing.
